GARNER IS STILL SILENT ON BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY

TEXAN'S RECOGNIZED CAMPAIGN LEADER ASKS GEORGIAN WITHDRAW NAME

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—Supporters of Speaker Garner for the democratic presidential nomination today wired the Nebraska Garner-for-President Club asking that his name not be entered in that state's presidential primary.

Rayburn reiterated that Garner is not an active candidate, but he did not close the door to all efforts in his behalf. He said the speaker undoubtedly would accept the nomination if it were tendered him.

Rayburn's telegram was addressed to Mrs. Lee Edwards, secretary of the Garner for President club organized in Omaha last night.

Mrs. Edwards had notified Rayburn that the organization voted to circulate petitions to put Garner's name on the ballot and that Arthur Mullen, national committeeman, was running a campaign for Roosevelt, whose name would be on the ballot.

"If Garner's name is on the ballot he will get the 16 delegates from Nebraska," Mrs. Edwards said.

Rayburn replied that Garner's friends deeply appreciated the interest shown in him by Nebraska workers and added:

"As a friend, and speaking for a host of friends of John N. Garner, it is desired that Mr. Garner's name be not entered in the presidential primary in Nebraska."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—The country was treated today to the contradictory spectacle of Speaker Garner's strongest supporters for the presidency pleading against efforts to secure for him the Georgia delegation to the democratic national convention.

Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, chosen leader of the pro-Garner forces and intimate friend of the speaker, wired Judge G. H. Howard of Atlanta a request that he withdraw his Garner proxy candidacy in the Georgia primary. The request was coupled with the flat assertion that the speaker was not a candidate.

HOOVER AGREES TO DEMOCRATS MAKING GOVERNMENT PLANS

STILL BELIEVES, HOWEVER, HE COULD DO RE-ORGANIZING BETTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—President Hoover has accepted pleasantly to the democratic determination that congress shall do the economy organizing of government activities but he sticks to the belief that he could do it better.

In a formal statement yesterday, the chief executive expressed delight that congress was getting active about the subject, but pointed out that for 25 years it had been trying to do some effective reorganizing without success, always running up against too great opposition. He conceded that the present "transcendent need for economy" gave more hope that something would be accomplished.

It was because of past failures he said, that he continues to believe the power of reorganization should be lodged with the president. This the democratic-controlled House has refused flatly to do. Mr. Hoover made no mention whatever of Speaker Garner's sharply critical statement last Sunday refusing to give blanket authority to Mr. Hoover, questioning his motive in asking for it, and upbraiding the republicans for trying to claim all the credit accruing from the reign of cooperation in congress.

TREASURY EXPERTS UNABLE TO FORECAST AMOUNT TO BE RAISED BY INCOME TAXES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (P)—Treasury experts, who in years past have forecast almost exactly the amount of income tax the government would collect each March 15, find themselves in a quandary this year and unable to find a basis on which to estimate tax receipts next month.

The sharp decline in income in 1930, which caused income tax collections last year to drop off $550,000,000 was continued in 1931. In addition, tax payers will write off losses this year, is feared, in greater amounts than last year. The deductions which will be taken for losses have been the stumbling block to making accurate estimates of the amount that may be collected after the first installment of tax on 1931 incomes. This is due the fifteenth of next month.

In all, probably less than 2,000,000 persons will pay income tax this year. In normal years the number was reduced from around 4,000,000 to 2,500,000 through broadening of exemptions but the decreased business is expected to take about half a million persons off the list because their incomes have dropped below the taxable amount.

If the government collects $250,000,000 from income tax payments next month officials will feel they are lucky. Last year the March 15 tax payments amounted to $334,830,000.

While the experts are fretting about 25,000 taxpayers are getting the sad news that their 1930 income tax payments are insufficient and they must pay up in 60 days the difference the internal revenue bureau believes is due, or carry their case to the United States board of tax appeals.

Under the 1928 revenue law income tax cases are outlawed after two years so the 1930 cases would be outlawed after March 15 unless the bureau notified the taxpayers of the deficiency. Such action suspends the statute of limitations until the case has been decided.

FLORENCE, Ariz., Feb. 25. (P)—Sentenced to hang May 11, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted "trunk" murderer, today occupied a cell in condemned row, hopeful her attorneys may yet save her from the gallows.

Mrs. Judd was brought to the state prison from Phoenix late last night, having left Phoenix a few hours after Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman denied her a new trial and sentenced her to death.

Although the execution date was set for May 11, state authorities said it was not likely she would be hanged for at least 15 months.

Under Arizona law, an appeal to the state supreme court is mandatory in all cases where the WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—Restricting the use of injunctions in labor disputes was debated on both sides of the capitol today while the house wet blocs filed a petition in that branch to obtain a vote on state prohibition control.

The house passed an appropriation bill providing $124,215,999 for the state, justice, commerce and labor departments next year and agreed to a conference report on a measure creating a $10,000,000 revolving fund for loans to agricultural credit corporations.

RANGERS CONTINUE INVESTIGATIONS IN DONNA PLOTTINGS

EXAMINING TRIALS POSTPONED UNTIL APRIL; MORE ARRESTS EXPECTED

EDINBURGH, Feb. 25. (P)—Examining trials for eight Donna men charged with conspiracy to murder six prominent Donna residents as revenge for defeat in an election have been postponed until March 3, Texas rangers said today. The trials originally were set for today in a justice court at Rio Grande City, Starr county.

Three state rangers returned to Donna today and said they would continue their investigation of the alleged plot and, if possible, prevent an open break between opposing political factions. They did not explain why the date for the hearing was postponed but indicated more arrests would be made in the next few days.

Ranger Captain Frank Hamer and Captain A. R. Mace made the arrests Feb. 19. Hamer termed the alleged conspiracy "one of cold-blooded things I ever ran across in all my years as a peace officer."

The rangers said three of eight men arrested, all members of the so-called "good government party," had admitted planning to seize control of the Donna city government and the Donna water district by hiring a Mexican assassin to kill six democratic office holders and political leaders.

Those charged were George W. Ruthven, Luther Lepley, Stokes Cheney, W. H. McClelland, former Donna city commissioner, Walter Van Allen and A. F. Dargel, farmers, and L. E. Schultz and E. J. Farnsworth.

Six men were said by the rangers to have been marked for death. They were Walter Weaver, prominent attorney of Donna and counsel for the Donna water district; Harry Ridgeway, manager of the district; T. W. Hooks, garage man; B. M. Reynolds, tax assessor for the water district; Huey Todd, ditch rider, and his brother, L. E. Todd, candidate for mayor of Donna in the election set for next April.

RAIL COMMISSION TAKES OVER EAST TEXAS PRORATION

MILITARY RULE REPLACED
BY ADMINISTRATOR OF CONSERVATION LAWS

AUSTIN, Feb. 25. (P)—The Texas railroad commission today assumed regulation of the East Texas oil field. A formal order was issued by it as administrator of conservation laws replacing exclusive military rule invoked by Governor R. S. Sterling October 13 last. The new arrangement will become effective immediately.

It was decided to continue the existing allowable of 75 barrels per well daily until March 15, after which an allowable of 325,000 barrels daily for the entire field would become effective. However, it stipulated that all wells in the area would contribute an equal amount to the field maximum production.

Calculating 4,200 wells producing in the field at this time, it was estimated the per well daily allowable would be about 77 barrels. Under Governor Sterling's existing military-enforced allowable each well is permitted to produce 75 barrels daily.

The railroad commission's action was taken in anticipation of the formal filing in United States federal court at Tyler of a decree carrying out findings of a three-judge tribunal that Governor Sterling did not have authority to regulate the field through his military power as commander in chief of the Texas National Guard.

It was intimated that the troops occupying the area comprised of Smith, Gregg, Rust and Upshur counties since last August 17 when Governor Sterling placed the field under martial law to suppress a strike. The troops would remain in the field, at least temporarily, in support of the railroad commission's authority.

The court did not hold that the

SENTIMENT BACKS SECRETARY STIMSON IN TREATY STAND

ALL POWERS PLACED ON NOTICE PRESENT TREATIES, IF RESPECTED, SUFFICIENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—Secretary of State Stimson's frank letter to Senator Borah outlining American policy in China was seen today as a definite effort to inform the world opinion and stop the barrage of notes between Tokyo and Washington.

The letter to Senator Borah calls for no reply from the Japanese foreign office and does not invite international controversy. But it lets all powers interested in the international settlement at Shanghai know that the United States believes existing treaties sufficient if strictly adhered to, to protect the interests of China, as well as those of all other nations which signed the nine-power treaty, framed at the Washington conference in 1922.

By this indirect method, Japan's suggestions that there should be treaty revisions or at least treaty interpretations to permit of foreign intervention because of Chinese inability to maintain domestic peace and safeguard foreign interests, are definitely rejected by the United States without giving Japan a direct rebuttal.

Congressional sentiment is aligned strongly behind the new Stimson statement. Individual leanings color the interpretations placed on the letter but no note of objection has been voiced.

The forceful reminder by Stimson that the treaties fixing naval ratios are interdependent with the nine-power pact for the preservation of China's territorial integrity and her free trade, and that this pact is threatened by the present conflict, was served on by big navy advocates as fuel for their fire.

MANUFACTURERS TAX PREDICTED THURSDAY BY SPEAKER GARNER

TEXAN BELIEVES MEASURE WILL BE COMPLETED AND READY WITHIN WEEK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—Speaker Garner today forecast that the new tax bill would contain a levy on manufacturers' sales and that it would be completed within a week or 10 days.

The Texas democrat said the ways and means committee had gone over the sources of revenue "with a fine tooth comb" and found that "the only place to get the money is through a manufacturers' sales tax."

Instead of $400,000,000 needed to be raised through excise taxes as proposed by the treasury, he explained it was found $800,000,000 was needed. Secretary Mills has estimated that about $1,241,000,000 must be had to balance the 1933 budget.

The committee already has decided on increases in income and other taxes to raise about $450,000,000.

Garner said he thought the ways and means committee was "pretty well convinced" that the sales tax was the best method of raising the needed funds.

Meanwhile, the ways and means committee decided against the proposed repeal of foreign tax credits, which was estimated to bring in about $35,000,000. It decided such a move would have a harmful effect on American export business.

WORLD DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE VOTED DOWN SOVIET PLAN

BRITISH RESOLUTION FOR PRELIMINARY DRAFT BASIS
UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

GENEVA, Feb. 25. (P)—The British resolution to make the draft convention the preliminary basis of discussion for the world disarmament conference was adopted unanimously today by the delegates.

The draft convention is the outline of a general disarmament treaty drawn up in 1930. It has generally been regarded as providing in the main for stabilization of present armaments.

Action on the British resolution, which was introduced by Sir John Simon, came after the conference had rejected the Soviet proposal to use their scheme of total disarmament as the framework of the present conference.

The great powers, including the United States and France, accepted the British plan yesterday, but met objection from Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet delegate.

Litvinoff made it plain that he had no serious plan to put obstacles in front of the British resolution but insisted he wanted his own plan considered. The conference deferred to his wishes and agreed to let his scheme come up as a substitute. Litvinoff then let it be known that if his plan was rejected he would support the draft convention idea.

GENEVA, Feb. 25. (P)—The world disarmament conference today voted down Russia's proposal for immediate total and universal disarmament throughout the world.

The proposal was presented by Maxim Litvinoff, soviet commissar for foreign affairs, at the opening of today's session. When the vote was taken, only Turkey and Russia supported the proposal.

"The special interests of the munition makers," Litvinoff said, "are stronger than the pacifist groups. Civilization would not suffer if the world were done with bare fists."

FOUR CENTRAL STATES WILL HOLD PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY BUT RESULTS NOT BINDING

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (P)—Voters in four of ten central states—Illinois, Nebraska, North Dakota and Ohio—have opportunity to indicate at the polls whom they prefer for the presidential nominee of their party. But such preference is not binding on delegates to the national convention.

Illinois statutes define the preference primary as "for the purpose of securing an expression of the sentiment and will of the party voters" and add that it is to be considered "advisory to the delegates."

Ohio laws require that each candidate for delegate must express a first and second choice for president and must have the consent of the candidate's party from the preference primary.

Counter Attack Was Launched Following Heavy Bombardment

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, Friday, Feb. 26. (P)—The thunder of heavy guns crashed on the Chapei front early this morning as the Chinese, victorious in yesterday's terrific engagement in the Kiangan sector, bombarded the enemy base in Hongkew park.

Shells dropped along the northern boundary of the international settlement, new pillars of smoke and flames rose from the ruins of Chapei and the Japanese answering fire made the morning a pandemonium.

The fighting appeared to have shifted from the Kiangan sector where the Japanese made considerable advances yesterday but lost all the ground they had gained when the Chinese, apparently reinforced by fresh men from Chiang Kai-Shek's 88th division, launched a counter-attack which won back nearly everything the Japanese had taken. At Kiangan, the Chinese were still hanging on.

The ground the Japanese managed to hold brought the western bulge of the right flank to a point due north of the western tip of Kiangan. Every man not needed for the defense of other fronts had been thrown into the wedge driven into the Chinese force a mile north of Kiangan.

The Japanese artillery moved forward to two new positions during the afternoon and their infantry long since had left the location it occupied when the battle began.

The big guns poured a crushing fire on the Chinese while the infantry advanced. Fighting desperately, the Japanese took Miao-chungchen, northwest of Kiangan, and continued their wheeling drive from there.

As the afternoon wore on, the Japanese claimed they had occupied the Chinese first line defenses northwest of Kiangan and that their artillery was then pounding vigorously on the second line. At the same time 40 airplanes rained 250-pound bombs on the Chinese.

The international settlement showed considerable nervousness because of an attack by the Japanese planes on the airport railway station, two miles south of the French concession. The inhabitants were fearful the Japanese would bomb the Lunghua arsenal which was reported to contain enough explosives to annihilate every window in the international settlement if a bomb were to hit it.

Artillery Fire Heavy.

Late in the afternoon the weight of the Japanese artillery onslaught was directed against the Chinese rear positions which Japanese military officials said they were trying to weaken so they

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25. (P)—Three hundred grimy-faced, unshaven and tired American soldiers of the 31st Infantry came out of the international settlement defense lines this afternoon after 15 days in front of shell-torn Chapei.

Their eyes were bloodshot and swollen from lack of sleep and they made a concerted rush for baths, shaves and "good old shuteyes."

For the next few days the boys will figuratively hang up a "don't disturb" sign and hibernate. They began that program tonight when they rolled into their bunks.

INVADERS CLAIMING IMPORTANT SUCCESS IN KIANGAN AREA

CHINESE FIRST LINE REPORTED CRUSHED AND FORCED TO RETREAT

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25. (P)—The Japanese army flung the full force of its power on Chinese defenses northwest of Kiangan in the most desperate battle since the beginning of the fighting at Shanghai and, late today, claimed they had crushed the Chinese first line and forced it to retreat.

The Japanese swept forward in an encircling movement around Kiangan village, tore a gap in the Chinese line and pressed forward toward Tangshu. The little Spartan force of Chinese defending Kiangan village continued to hang on, however, and were virtually surrounded as the Japanese drive pressed on west of them.

The Japanese artillery moved forward to two new positions during the afternoon and their infantry long since had left the location it occupied when the battle began.

The big guns poured a crushing fire on the Chinese while the infantry advanced. Fighting desperately, the Japanese took Miao-chungchen, northwest of Kiangan, and continued their wheeling drive from there.

Another message from the foreign ministry in Nanking declared Chinese troops are using dum dum bullets, as had been charged by the Japanese. It said "it has been discovered and certified by the Austrian surgeon, Dr. G. F. Bume, that Japanese troops at Shanghai have been using dum dum bullets in defiance of humanity. The Chinese troops have not been permitted to use this kind of bullets."

ANOTHER WOMAN DECIDES TO QUIT CONGRESS PLACE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (P)—Arkansas' famous contingent of women legislators will be further reduced at the end of the present congress.

Representative Eggigene Wingo has decided not to seek reelection. She filed out the term of her later husband, Otis Wingo, in the last congress and was re-elected for the present term.

By retiring she follows the example of Mrs. Pearl Peden Oldfield, the other Arkansas woman who served out her deceased husband's term in the Seventeenth congress and served one full term in her own right.

The third Arkansas woman in the tradition is Mrs. Hattie Caraway, first woman elected to the senate, who is serving out the term of her late husband, Senator T. H. Caraway.

LIQUOR RAID LED TO SUSPENSION OF FACULTY MEMBERS

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 25.—(Spl.)—A liquor raid at the University of Nebraska led to suspension of a professor and an instructor.

The two, Dr. L. C. Wimberly and N. E. Eliason, were charged with the party and testimony taken by the board of regents recently showed no undergraduates were involved.

A small quantity of liquor in the room when the officers arrived was claimed by Alan Williams, a graduate of the university, who is charged with illegal possession of liquor and is free under $1,000 bond. The instructors said afterwards they had entered the room and found the liquor just as the raid started.

CLARENCE DARROW MAY DEFEND HONOR SLAYERS IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, Feb. 25.—(Spl.)—A possibility Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, may be called on to defend Mrs. Granville Fortescue, society matron; Lieut. Thomas H. Massey, U.S.N., her son-in-law and two naval men charged with lynching a Hawaiian may result in changing the order of trial of this city's two most widely-known criminal cases.

The Chicago attorney has been offered the case and was reported to be considering it favorably. Dispatches from New York said both Darrow and Dudley Field Malone, New York attorney, had been invited to join the defense.

If either or both accept, it was considered probable the second degree murder trial, scheduled for March 10, would be delayed to permit the new counsel to become acquainted with details, and possibly the so-called Massey assault case would be tried first.

Mrs. Fortescue and her codefendants are accused of shooting Joseph Kahahawai, one of five suspected assassins of Mrs. Massey.

MURRAY RESORTS TO TYPICAL TACTICS IN GEORGIA PRIMARY

GARY, Ind., Feb. 25.—(Spl.)—William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, says he is "tough" mad" so he is going to take a "tough" mad" to Georgia to tell the people there about the skullduggery used to keep me out of the preferential primary in that state.

The Oklahoma governor, an aspirant for the democratic presidential nomination, speaks at Fort Wayne and Indianapolis today, completing his Indiana tour. He talked here last night. Before leaving for Fort Wayne, he received word he could not maintain Georgia officials to put his name on the ballot. Previously he had been informed his entry was received too late for filing.

"It was there in plenty of time," the Oklahoma said. "That is, it was there unless the mail system has broken down, like lots of other things. They know I'd beat Roosevelt in that state just like I beat him in North Dakota. That's why they don't want me in that primary."

"All right I'll fix 'em. I'm going down there just as soon as I fill my North Dakota speaking dates. I'll tell my friends there about the skullduggery and get them to scratch Roosevelt's name off as a protest if they can't write mine in."

Murray said the would go to Georgia early in March. The governor reiterated his statement that he would refuse to accept a vice-presidential nomination. "I don't want it," he said. "Do you think I would want it in that office if the lid blows off? I don't want to be shot. But the presidency if different. If I get that job I can keep the lid on."

Harris, chief of bureau there, has been almost continually going to take a "tough" mad" to Georgia to tell the people there about the skullduggery used to keep me out of the preferential primary in that state.

The Oklahoma governor, an aspirant for the democratic presidential nomination, speaks at Fort Wayne and Indianapolis today, completing his Indiana tour. He talked here last night. Before leaving for Fort Wayne, he received word he could not maintain Georgia officials to put his name on the ballot. Previously he had been informed his entry was received too late for filing.

"It was there in plenty of time," the Oklahoma said. "That is, it was there unless the mail system has broken down, like lots of other things. They know I'd beat Roosevelt in that state just like I beat him in North Dakota. That's why they don't want me in that primary."

"All right I'll fix 'em. I'm going down there just as soon as I fill my North Dakota speaking dates. I'll tell my friends there about the skullduggery and get them to scratch Roosevelt's name off as a protest if they can't write mine in."

Murray said the would go to Georgia early in March. The governor reiterated his statement that he would refuse to accept a vice-presidential nomination. "I don't want it," he said. "Do you think I would want it in that office if the lid blows off? I don't want to be shot. But the presidency if different. If I get that job I can keep the lid on."

Roosevelt, Willing ATLANTA, Feb. 25.—(Spl.)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York today suggested that Governor W. H. Murray of Oklahoma be permitted to enter the Georgia presidential preference primary, but the rules committee of the state democratic party declined to comply with the suggestion.

Difficulties Great Difficulties of covering the present crisis in the Far East are increased by the fact that European cities are closely linked with the United States by many cables but there are few routings from the Far East and they are jammed to capacity in this emergency. Therefore, to give prompt protection to American newspapers, messages are frequently sent at the urgent rate of $2.34 a word, and other messages often take the full rate of 80 cents a word. Of course, we use lower rates on the bulk of the copy, but those rates from 18 cents to 26 cents a word.

The point is that, despite the "depression," American newspapers, to protect their readers, are bringing in a costly service from Shanghai, much more costly than the ordinary run of news.

Use All Routings We use almost every routing out of the orient. There are two wireless systems, one direct and one by way of Manila; a trans-

Pacific cable and two cables across Asia and Europe. Transmission time are watched carefully, and when one routing proves slow, another is used.

So comprehensive has been our service that European agencies, covering the same territory with their own men, have frequently asked permission to cable our dispatches to their own head bureaus.

All our oriental news is centered in New York, where an experienced cable staff of men who have thoroughly grounded themselves in the history and background of the Sino-Japanese affair prepare the news for the wires. We do not "cableize" that is, use code or compound words that might give rise to misinterpretation.

Nothing is written into the dispatches that is not contained in the cable matter from the orient. In other words, they are not padded here in any way. When interpretation, or explanatory matter is needed, it follows the cable under a "Transmission Rapid."

Despite the enormous traffic on the routes from China, our average transmission is rapid. Messages have come through in 11 minutes from the time they left our correspondent's hands, and the bulk of the matter is received in something between 30 and 50 minutes. The service is a 24-hour one, and we are protected immediately on developments around the clock.

We are, of course, well protected at Geneva, and in Paris and London, on aspects of the Sino-Japanese troubles. Frank King, in London, lived for some years in the Far East, and is able to write authoritatively on the British angles. P. I. Lipsey, at Geneva, has been in touch closely with the League for years. J. E. Sharkey, at Paris, was The Associated Press correspondent at Tokyo for nearly eight years. Stanley P. Richardson, at Moscow, is an experienced man who is in close touch with Russo-Japanese developments. He entered Associated Press service in the Dallas, Texas, bureau in 1920.

Two Pilots Wanted Experience; Crashed OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 25.—(Spl.)—Two young licensed pilots went up in the air yesterday for more experience and came down with more than they bargained for.

The two, Walter Hawkins and L. T. Dutcher, went up in Hawkins' plane and, 5,000 feet up, Hawkins put the plane into a tailspin. He was unable to bring the plane out of the spin and he and Dutcher leaped with parachutes to safety. Each received a sprained ankle. Hawkins' plane was ruined.

The meeting of the association was originally scheduled to be held here a week ago but was postponed due to inclement weather conditions.

An interesting program has been arranged for the meeting here tonight and a good crowd is anticipated. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

KERENS, Feb. 25.—(Spl.)—All farm work is at a standstill here and will be for the next two weeks if there is no more rainfall. A large part of the land that was bedded will have to be gone over again as the land is washed so badly.

Farmers say corn planting will be from ten to fifteen days late. Water is still standing over the bottom lands from the overflow of the river and creeks adjoining it.

ROOSEVELT REMOVES NEW YORK SHERIFF FROM HIS POSITION

SHERIFF FARLEY FAILED TO SATISFY GOVERNOR ON LARGE DEPOSITS

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Gov. Roosevelt, Democrat, today removed Sheriff Farley from his position as sheriff of New York county. Farley, district leader of Tammany Hall's keystone unit, was removed because he was not satisfied with the explanation of his income and was mainly on this ground that he removed him. The income, as charged by Samuel Seabury, counsel for the legislative committee investigating the income of the sheriff, related primarily to Farley's "wonderful tin box" in which the huge sheriff deposited $300,000 over a period of a few years. The removal of the Tammany Hall man was construed by some to mean that Mr. Roosevelt had thrown down a gauntlet to Tammany, challenging it to oppose his action for the Democratic presidential nomination at next June's national convention. Others, however, believed that the governor's action had no political significance and that his dismissal of Farley was an action entirely against the sheriff and had no connection with his feelings toward Tammany Hall.

The Hall had been expected by some to give its support to Roosevelt's candidacy, but it was not clear what action the governor might take in this case—if the Tammany Hall organization itself turned its support to Roosevelt. Although he did not base his removal order on Farley's personal appropriation of interest on funds of litigants, the governor criticized this "highly improper practice" which had been "long continued."

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Thomas M. Farley remained in the decision of Governor Roosevelt to remove him as sheriff of New York county. The sheriff made known he would make no statement a few minutes before the decision was announced. Through a nurse, he referred callers to his attorney.

Stimson Stand

(Continued from page 1.) would feel no longer bound to the treaty-imposed fleet limits or the pledge against further fortification at Guam and in the Philippines. If it battles Japan, he would have the nine-power pact, Senator Johnson of California welcomed an "implication that we are free now to pursue our own course."

Strong believers in the power of peace inherent in treaties and national co-operation refused to see any such implication, leaning instead on the strong Stimson declaration that the United States would stand firmly by the nine-power pact, the Kellogg peace pact, and all solemn international treaties for peace.

Japan Questions

Stimson's Statement

TOKYO, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A high ranking official, after reading press dispatches, quoting excerpts from Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson's letter to Senator Borah on the Sino-Japanese situation, today questioned the validity of the statement that Stimson's assumption that America's naval concessions in the Washington treaty were predicated on guarantees embodied in the nine-power pact.

The terms of the naval agreement, he said, actually were completed at the Washington conference before the powers began a real consideration of Chinese problems and Japan had agreed to naval terms, leaving many problems of the utmost importance to her for settlement to later stages of the conference.

Japan, he asserted, accepted a 60 per cent reduction in her fleet in the conference, thereby leaving a charge of having laid all their trump cards down early in the game. Had Japan wished to violate the nine-power pact, she would have delayed agreement indefinitely.

New Taxes

(Continued from page 1.) ministrative policies to be disposed of. The committee decided, however, to modify the foreign credit law, to force American plants with subsidiaries abroad to pay the full income corporation tax of 12 per cent. This is expected to bring in about $6,000,000, according to a treasury estimate.

Beaty Urges Sales Tax For Revenue

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Amos L. Beaty, president of the American Petroleum Institute, in a statement issued today, urged that revenue for balancing the federal budget be obtained by levying a manufacturers' sales tax rather than federal gasoline tax. A manufacturers' tax at the proposed two per cent rate would be a source of revenue that would be held, while a federal tax on gasoline would tend to accelerate a decline in consumption.

He expressed the opinion that the states, facing financial emergencies of their own, would not welcome federal invasion of the gasoline tax field and that industries must regard the policy of taxing single commodities as a menace.

HEIR KILLED BY SHOCK

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Alexander McGee, 40, of Glenora, in county Antrim, got word yesterday that he was heir to a $17,200 estate in Denver, Colo. Today he was dead from the shock of his good fortune.

'DOES DEATH END ALL?' RATES AS DAY'S GREATEST QUESTION

Depression Not So Grave A Problem As This Oldest Mystery—Light From Story of Lazarus—Raised From Dead.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Only twice, so far as we know did Jesus weep. Both times were profound, significant. One He wept over Jerusalem and His nation; for Jesus was a patriot with a shepherd's heart. His compassion for people was so deep and acute that it brought tears to those who looked at him with eyes of love. What children learn as the shortest verse in the Bible records the other occasion—"Jesus wept." Spurgeon once said that he could almost forgive the committee that chopped the Scriptures up into artificial text divisions because they thus set apart the luminous truth that the Saviour shed tears for a friend. It was the death of Lazarus, Lazarus of the beloved Bethany home, where so often Jesus visited; Lazarus, the brother of Martha and Mary—that overcame the great Teacher to tears. So moving was the spectacle that by his tears, Lazarus was raised from the dead. "Behold how He loved him!"

The phenomena, the life of His people and the death of a person, broke down the reserve of the strong and self-contained Jesus. He wept because He had sympathy and His compassion belonged to us in our massed troubles and in our individual griefs. In these days of universal woe we cannot miss the spectacle of the Master weeping.

Tender Home Ties. It is tragically true that the jaded and individualistic post-war period disintegrated countless homes. The new age speed and the search of the home for more of more hectic pleasures. But the eternal virtues have not altered. Home joys are best joys. Family life is the happiest life. Domestic life's rewards are the greatest that exist. "A man and woman who create a successful and hospitable home are doing more for their age, and for themselves, than those who make and spend money in public or commercial careers. Already, the depression is driving people back into their homes, to find again the oldest, sweetest delights of life."

At the moment, we are brought back to the simple fact that the homeless Saviour of mankind found a haven of happiness in the Bethany home of His friends, in a suburb of Jerusalem. His heart was knit to these hospitable, tender, loving, strong ties. From the cares of His public life He sought refuge in the hospitality of the considerate and loyal Lazarus and his sisters. Their care of Him was not a perfunctory duty, but an "entirely personal minister." Intimate and personal affection subsisted among them. Who of all the friends of Jesus were more favored than this inner group whose grief He often wept? He knew that the only home He knew during His public ministry? Ah, the joy of having Christ for a guest!

When the Family Circle Breaks. Homes and families would have to be broken up. One did not already exist; for death inevitably comes to every domestic circle. Only the hope of reunion beyond the grave makes the grief bearable. Death came to the Bethany home. When Lazarus fell gravely ill, the first thought was to send word to Jesus, who was not in Jerusalem at the time.

Strangely enough, the Teacher did not come. He stayed in Bethany. He uttered some rather cryptic words to the effect that the sickness was for the glory of God. The remark sounded like His comment upon the blindness of the beggar who He healed. "The works of God should be made manifest in him." It seems as if Jesus ever moved under the consciousness of the overruling and inscrutable will of God, and accepted the principle of the life of faith. Calamity cannot be explained; death cannot be explained; it can only be submitted to in the consciousness that God knows best, and is fulfilling His purpose, beautiful and beneficent purpose.

The Wonder Wrought. Lazarus was dead. But in his case we may perceive the Divine Providence of it all. For Jesus, exercising the authority which He attempted to use, called the muffled corpse from the tomb; in accents which all the dead of earth will one day hear and obey. In the entire world's history there had never been any miracle like this. Instantly, at the sound of that beloved Voice, the decaying form began to glow with life. When the grave-ceremonies were removed, the dull, closed eyes of one dead man opened, sparkling with life and affection. The flash of health was on the lately-pallid cheeks. Into the cold stiff limbs had come the spring of youth and vitality. Lazarus who had been dead, was alive.

That scene baffles imagination. It was the greatest of the "signs" wrought by the Wonder-Worker. After the hysterical joy and rejoicings of the moment were over, the news spread everywhere. It set tongues wagging in the bazaars, and it penetrated portentously into the councils of the Sanhedrin; where, catching its import, the ecclesiastical potentates decreed that Jesus must be killed. The raising to life of Lazarus was the immediate and concrete cause of the death of Jesus. Also it sent His popularity with the crowds rising to new levels of enthusiasm.

Does Death End All? If we accept the record, then there is no escape from the conviction that Jesus is Lord of life and death. His words, spoken to Martha, stand as the Magna Carta of the race in the face of its profoundest mystery: "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believed on Me, though he die, yet shall he live."

Through many windows man peers at the problems of death. Science is importuned to reveal some assurance of immortality; but the scientist knows as little of what death is as he knows of the nature of the atom. Dogmatic than some of his confederates, Professor Arthur H. Compton, physicist and Nobel Prize winner, offered these interesting conclusions, in a recent lecture at Yale:

"A man's body is at its prime before middle life, and his intellect probably somewhat after middle life. But it takes a whole lifetime to build the character of a noble man. The exercise and discipline of youth, the struggles and failures and successes, the pains and pleasures of maturity, loneliness and tranquility of age, these make up the fire through which he must pass to bring out the pure gold of his soul. Having been thus perfected, what shall Nature do with him? Annihilate him? What infinite waste!"

The Foundation of Faith. So much for the reasoning of the scientific mind. But the Christian's sure ground is the rock of immortality to be found in the explicit teachings of Jesus; and in the truth that He Himself vanquished death, and lives and reigns forever, in the presence of all the redeemed.

Why seek further for comfort in death's bereavement, for light upon the mystery of immortality? There is no other clear assurance of life beyond the grave besides the words of the Lord of life, Jesus, who alone conquered death. Spookism satisfies only the credulous. Philosophy leads us along a lane of grinning question marks. Hope is always twin to doubt. Nature's analogies are, after all, only parables.

It is only when we turn to the Bible that we find explicit assurance that death does not end all. When we make counsel of Christ, we have His taking His very existence upon this promise: "Be cause I live, ye shall live also."

Britishers went for their share of the uncertainties along the Chapei line.

The Americans had earned their rest. The boys had come up only recently from Manila where tropical breezes blew them into their occupation of the danger zone they have been breathing biting winds within their sand-bag barricades. Their position was most dangerous because they had the Chinese facing them and the Japanese on their right. As a result they saw plenty of action.

The doughboys mixed barricade piling with hanging to long underwear and overcoats and they came out tired yet enthusiastic about their jobs.

Americans Told to Evacuate. SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—(AP)—All Americans who live at the Astor House hotel, one of the landmarks of Shanghai facing Soochow creek, were cautioned today by American officials to leave there and return to a safe location. Most of them declined.

The advice was given because of the apparent danger from Chinese shells which fell last night near this spot as the artillery attempted to shell the Japanese flagship Izumo anchored in the Whangpoo.

Queries have been sent authorities at Manila inquiring what facilities are available there for the evacuation of American residents. Although the reply was not made public, it was understood that extensive facilities are available there.

In the event of a general evacuation all American shipping in these waters would be taken over to transport the American citizens.

BRUENING STRIKES AT OPPOSITION IN REICHSTAG TODAY

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Chancellor Heinrich Brüning struck back at the opposition in the Reichstag today with an impassioned speech delivered in one of the most tumultuous sessions a German chancellor ever confronted.

Throwing aside his habitual reserve, the chancellor spoke in a voice vibrant with emotion, charging his opponents with creating dissension at a time when Germany is in the midst of the most serious foreign negotiations.

"Never will I carry on a foreign policy of pure prestige," he shouted above the din, "merely to satisfy the demands of political agitators at home, thereby endangering the vital interests of the nation."

"This policy of ours would command a different kind of attention abroad if the German people could agree at this critical time to forego political recriminations at home."

PLAN AIR LINE.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 25.—(AP)—R. F. Danner returned here today after completing a preliminary survey to determine feasibility of an air line between Oklahoma City and Wichita Falls, Texas.

He said a definite decision had not been reached.

KNOB-KNOCKERS DAMAGED SCHOOL SAFE LAST NIGHT

ONLY SMALL SUM IN CASH
TAKEN BUT SAFE AND VAULT DAMAGED.

A safe and vault in the high school were robbed of a small amount of cash by knob-knockers who entered the building sometime Tuesday night. Entrance was gained by forcing a basement window.

City Detectives Bruce Nutt and Marion Griffin, and Bertillon expert Jack Mergenthaler were investigating today.

The robbery apparently cut him off on a small broken glass panel in the principal's office, and left numerous blood stains, which were traced by officers from the building at the corner of Broadway and Twentieth street, where they stopped abruptly. The principal's and superintendent's offices were entered by breaking small glass panels in the outer doors, and manipulating the inside catches.

High school officials today reported about $3 in small change was missing, but that no papers or records were disturbed. The robbery was knocked off both safes, and considerable damage was done to the doors of each, in addition to the breaking of three small glass panels. It was thought that the robbery was committed sometime near midnight Tuesday, as the bloodstains in the corridor and offices were dry when discovered by the janitors about 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The damage and loss of contents of the safe and vault were covered by insurance.

playmen from joining labor unions, would be barred by the Norris law.

A different of opinion over legality of restricting the power of federal judges to issue injunctions against labor unions was the house judiciary committee. Labor representatives argued for such legislation and spokesmen for employers against.

A vote on the bill was taken. The petition to bring the proposed legislation from a committee to the house floor for consideration, half a hundred representatives including two women members, were present.

Representatives of labor and republicans, republicans, filed to the front and began signing it. Signatures of 145 members are necessary for house action.

Injunction Bill Debated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Whether congress can legally restrict the power of federal courts to issue injunctions against labor unions was debated today before the house judiciary committee.

Representatives of labor dispute the contention of counsel for Associated Employers that congress did not have the right to curtail the power of the courts to the degree that the Norris-LaGuardia bill would limit it.

They appeared a little before the noon recess when the bill was taken up by the senate for debate.

The house committee hearings were restricted to legal aspects of the proposal, rather than the policy involved.

Akron Is Defended.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The Akron was defended today by the house naval committee today on charges that the ship was unsafe.

Representative Delaney (D., N. Y.) read the committee a prepared statement that the giant aircraft carrier was taken up last Monday morning by an airworthy as ever.

He differed in this respect with Representative McClinch (D., N. Y.), who expressed fear the ship might have been "irreparably damaged."

Public Printer Hits Back.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Criticized for misprints in the Congressional Record, the public printer came back at the critics today with the assertion that scribbled names in documents submitted for printing have been found "almost illegible."

The letter from the government printing office drew senatorial promises to be more legible in the future.

Senators, however, are not the only careless ones. Recently a clerk discovered several bills had been introduced by members who failed to put their names on. The orphans are still lying around waiting for authors to acknowledge them.

To Decide Interest Rate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Secretary Mills said today the treasury's special "baby bond" issue to drain hoarded dollars back into circulation would be "without a roof."

The interest rate will be decided during the day. In the original description of the issue to be of about 100,000 dollars. Mills said the rate would be at least 1-1/2 per cent.

Mills conferred during the morning with President Hoover and Eugene Meyer, chairman of the federal reserve board, at the White House.

The new bond issue will be put into denominations of $50, $100 and $500 and will mature at the end of a year. The bonds will be redeemed after 30 days' notice and will be sold directly through the banks.

In first announcing the issue, Frank Knox, chairman of the President's emergency financing committee, said his only fear was that the bonds would not be created by the treasury in sufficient volume to satisfy the demand.

Mills gave assurance today, however, that the government would place on the amount of bonds to be put up for sale.

Draws Additional Funds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—An additional $20,603,140 in cash was drawn from the treasury Feb. 23 by the reconstruction finance corporation.

The requisition brought the total spent by the corporation since its organization to $244,470,000.

On the same day that additional funds were drawn by the corporation, the treasury subscribed

LARGEST INDIVIDUAL GIFT EVER MADE TO TEXAS A. & M. FORMALLY PRESENTED TODAY

ROBERT M. MCFARLIN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. McFarlin, Wednesday, presented the largest individual gift ever made for educational purposes in the history of Texas A. & M. college when they gave the Valley Farms, consisting of 7,000 acres of highly improved farm lands in Kaufman, Ellis and Navarro counties for the establishment of the McFarlin memorial student loan fund. They also gave a check for $100,000 to pay all outstanding obligations connected with the farms and which is expected to leave approximately $47,000 for operating expenses.

to an additional $14,132,370 of federal land bank stock, bringing to $46,825,905 its total subscriptions under the new legislation permitting them.

Pass Department Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The house today passed the state, justice, commerce and labor department bills making appropriations of $124,215,999 for the next fiscal year.

Extreme Tactics Are Used By Wet Bloc To Secure Vote on Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Resorting to extreme parliamentary tactics to obtain consideration of a state control prohibition amendment, the house wet bloc today filed a discharge petition making a vote mandatory if signed by 145 members.

Representative Linthicum of Maryland, chairman of the democratic caucus, presented the petition. If the 145 signatures are obtained, the house will vote on whether the house rule constitutional amendment sponsored by the organized democratic and republican wets, but rejected by the judiciary committee 14 to 9, shall be considered on the floor.

Racketeers Use Mails As Threat Weapons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The sinister trail of the racketeer through the United States mails was described vividly today before the house post office committee.

From mid-west cities, particularly St. Louis and Chicago, came the cry for a weapon to deal with threatening letters.

Kidnappings, intimidations of jurors and frightening of important witnesses in criminal cases were cited as proof that the mails have become a powerful influence in perpetration of crime.

Representative Cochran (D., Mo.) urged a bill to provide punishment for sending such letters through the mails, told of the urgent demand for it by citizens' committees, chambers of commerce and police chiefs.

Credit Expansion Bill Near Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Agreed to in conference, the modified credit expansion bill came today to the house today for approval and immediate reference to the senate.

Acquiescence of both branches of congress in the changes made by the adjusting committee was predicted here today. The bill came law before the week is out, making immediately available to the nation's banks a vastly increased reservoir of credit in the federal reserve system and freeing it of gold and big enough to sustain any raids.

Emergency rediscounting privileges, under the compromise reached, will be available to all banks and a capitalization under five millions, instead of two as provided by the senate. Operation of the emergency provisions was limited to one year instead of two with the exception of a provision allowing five banks to band together to secure special rediscount privileges from the reserve system, which was made permanent. Smaller groups also could use this privilege, provided they deposit 10 per cent of their federal reserve district.

Senator Glass, sponsor of the bill in his branch, said the legislation would assure safety to 7600 banks in the reserve system.

Attention now, he said, will go to his own bill rewriting bank law control speculative activity.

Nearing Agreement On "Lame Duck" Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Senate and house conferees nearing an agreement today on terms of the Norris constitutional amendment eliminating "lame duck" sessions of congress and providing new inauguration dates. A compromise was reached providing that congress meet Jan. 3, and that the president and vice-president take office Jan. 20.

It also was agreed that congress be given authority to enact law prescribing the manner of selection of a president in the event a president-elect dies before assuming office.

might occupy them as soon as the demolition of the Chinese first line was completed.

As the battle raged, large numbers of Japanese dead and wounded were brought out of the front lines but it was said most of them would not be picked up until the enemy was driven back.

United States officials in the international settlement said they would soon announce a plan by which all Americans in the whole settlement area could be concentrated quickly for evacuation in case of an emergency. The officials said they did not consider the danger greatly increased yet, but they thought it best to have their plans made before an emergency arose.

Today's battle began after a threat of a Chinese offensive intended to block the landing of additional troops from Japan.

Chinese War Commander.

NANKING, Feb. 25.—(AP)—It was understood here today that the national government would soon appoint Chiang Kai-Shek, former president of China, as commander of Chinese forces assigned to the task of recovering lost territories in Manchuria while General "Yang" Yu-Hsiang would be given command of the troops "resisting Japanese aggression at Shanghai."

The war office announced tonight that as a result of a strong attack by the Japanese in the vicinity of Miaochungchen, on the Shanghai "front," the Chinese retreated a "short distance."

"This afternoon," however, the announced said, the Chinese counter attacked driving the Japanese back several hours of heavy fighting, the Chinese recovering their lost positions."

To Increase Shanghai Force

TOKYO, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Japan's decision to send a stronger, better force against the Chinese at Shanghai is being rapidly translated into action (which the censors forbid foreign correspondents to describe) and there is supreme confidence that the decisive blow can be struck before the Chinese can be reinforced.

The great majority of Japanese officials and laymen alike are convinced the only solution to the admittedly grave situation at Shanghai lies in the vigorous and irresistible force at the earliest possible moment.

Garner

The Garner movement is into any primaries requiring consent, direct or indirect, of the candidate himself, was a foregone conclusion in view of the speaker's determined stand to have nothing to do with the movement on his behalf. The Rayburn move may be interpreted as an effort to protect the speaker from any appearance of tacit consent to a proxy race. It might be a move to prevent a decisive defeat, since the state's vote has been considered to be in the pocket of Governor Roosevelt of New York.

Some observers saw in it a disavowal of any connection between the Garner boom and the famed "Stop-Roosevelt" drive and forecast that efforts on behalf of the speaker henceforth would be confined almost entirely to development of such enthusiasm all over the country as to make him the likeliest choice in case of a convention deadlock.

Georgia Situation

Explained Thursday

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Judge G. H. Howard's campaign manager, L. Thomas Gillen, says the Atlanta jurist has entered the Georgia presidential preferential primary not as a candidate but merely to permit voters to express sentiment for Speaker John Garner.

Answering a telegram urging that Judge Howard refrain from entering the Georgia primary "either as a proxy or in any other sense as a representative of Mr. Garner," Gillen last night wired the sender, Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, in Washington, that he was "misinformed about the Georgia situation."

The congressman had said his telegram was sent as a friend of the speaker and, "speaking for his host of friends."

Judge Howard's campaign manager explained that Speaker Garner's supporters in Georgia were given no chance to express their choice for him unless he requested the state executive committee in writing to enter his name as a candidate.

Temperance Worker

Gets Effective Answer

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—(P)—John N. Garner refused to be drawn into a discussion of prohibition yesterday, heaving to his declared policy of not discussing any question "with which congress does not have immediate concern."

Mrs. Claude De Van Watter, president of the Texas W. C. T. U., telegraphed the speaker of the house of representatives and democratic presidential possibility that many prohibition women were refraining from joining Garner for President clubs until they could ascertain how he stood on prohibition, and asked the direct question if he was for or against repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Garner replied he was not "particularly interested as to how my determination in this respect will affect my political future."

"I am confronted with difficult task, a task involving greater responsibilities than have fallen to the lot of the speaker since the world war, and my sole ambition is to discharge my duties in the manner that I may be helpful to the American people by relieving the distressing conditions they are experiencing," Speaker Garner replied to Mrs. Watter.

Howard Says Will

Not Quit Primary

ATLANTA, Feb. 25.—(P)—Judge G. H. Howard said today that "under no circumstances or conditions" would he withdraw from the Georgia presidential preference primary.

His comment followed publication today of a statement from Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, asking that Howard withdraw. Rayburn is a close friend of Speaker John N. Garner of the house of representatives. In Judge Howard's announcement of his candidacy, he said if Georgegians supported him in the primary March 23, he wish them to do so "with the understanding that the state's vote, as far as I can influence it, will be cast for John N. Garner of Texas."

Judge Howard and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, are the only candidates who qualified for the democratic presidential preference primary in this state.

At the same time, the rules committee, meeting here to prepare the form of ballots and necessary blanks for the March 23 primary passed a resolution criticizing Governor Murray for "impugning the honesty and integrity of the committee."

Only the names of Governor Roosevelt of New York and of Judge G. Howard of Atlanta, who has announced he would support Speaker John W. Garner, will appear on the ballots, the committee announced.

Dispatches from Tokyo disclosing that the emperor had talked with General Yoshinori Shirokawa was taken here to mean that he would supersede Kenichi Ueyeda in command of the army at Shanghai.

The Japanese sailors aboard the flagship Idzumi in the Whangpoo in front of the international settlement have taken the Chinese effort to bombard the ship seriously enough to don steel helmets and put up armor plate defenses on various parts of the vessel.

Wear Steel Helmets

Sailors aboard the Italian warship Libia, which was struck by a Chinese shell but undamaged yesterday, also went to the ship's deck-scrubbing and the like with steel helmets perched on their heads.

The battle of propaganda here also proceeds apace. The Chinese "victories" recorded daily in the Shanghai vernacular newspapers are fully counter balanced by the news dispatches wired to Tokyo by Japanese agencies and special correspondents.

The Japanese have about 140 editors, reporters, and photographers on the scene filling to their agencies and newspapers day and night. The Japanese newspaper Asahi and its rival Nichi Nichi alone have 17 men each in the field.

JUST FOLKS

PATIENT GOLFER EXPLODES
Old Bill Jones is a golfer brave
and a patient soul is he.
When he gets a shot he may like it not, but a smile is all you'll see.
Though some men swear and tear
their hair and scatter their clubs about.
Old Bill just grins at his golfing sins and silently walks them out.
There are times I've known when old Bill Jones was a strong man sorely tried.
But never a word from his lips I heard, though he must have boiled inside.
And I whispered low: "No man can show such marvelous self-control."
There will come a day when he'll throw away his everlasting soul.
Old Bill Jones kept his happy grin
almost to the season's end.
Good luck or bad he still seemed glad to be out with a golfing friend.
But there came the day, with one hole to play, when a drive
meant several pounds.
And Old Bill shot with a mighty swing and that ball went out of bounds!
He took one look at that hook,
and turned, like a madman
on the tee.
We three stood still and gazed at Bill, for his face was a sight
to see.
His veins stood out, as he strode
about, ere the speech began to flow.
Then he frightened the birds in the trees with words which he wasn't supposed to know.

"HOW MUCH IS BIL- LION?"

The question is asked by Peter Molyneux in his Texas Weekly and is answered
by him as follows:
"Recently Judge Coombes
of Stamford convulsed an audience at Ranger by telling a story of a little boy who reported his father's definition of 'one billion dollars' to his teacher, said
definition being to the effect that it was 'a helluva lotta money.' Judge Coombes remarked that this was a good definition of a billion dollars.
"It is possible, however,
to get a little better idea of a billion dollars than that.
For example, if a certain family became one dollar
richer every time the clock ticked off one second, it would take 316 years, 326
days, 21 hours, and 44 minutes for it to become one billion dollars richer.
"At the rate of one dollar
an inch for advertising, assuming 200 inches to the page, it would require 136
years and 328 days to run
one billion dollars worth of advertising in 100 newspapers, running one page in each of them every day.
"And speaking of inches,
an inch is a unit we can all comprehend and we all know how to measure distance in miles. Well, one billion inches amounts to 15,782 miles, 1,457 yards
two feet, and four inches,
or 742 miles more than the distance traversed on a round trip between Los Angeles and Manila, or 568 miles
more than eight times the distance between Dallas and Boston.
"If Adam began six thousand years ago saving at the rate of four hundred dollars
a day and lived until the present day, continuing this very commendable practice without interruption, he would still be some $300,- 000 short of a billion dollars.
"If a billion dollars were equally distributed among the six million people living in Texas, each would receive about $166, and if distributed among the people of the United States each would receive less than eight dollars. If one billion persons lived in Texas the density of population would be about the same as that of the District of Columbia, and there would be one
town lot of about 60 by 120
feet to each person, though many of them would be on the tops of mountains. When the population of the earth
was a billion persons, less than a hundred years ago,
the density of population
was less than that of Texas
today. It was approximately 17 persons to the square mile of land, but a large portion of the land was uninhabitable.
"It would take more than fifteen years for one to count a billion, counting 300
to the minute ten hours a day without missing a single day. And yet Texas produced last year about two and a half times one billion pounds of cotton,
which is about a billion pounds more than it ought to produce next season. A billion dollars is what the

OPPORTUNITY

If there is one European who doesn't think that opportunity in the old world
is dead and his continent
tottering economically it is James Lyle MacKay, Earl of Inchcape, merchant prince, financier and director of a score of powerful corporations.
His view of the fourth decade of the twentieth century is that there has been no period in Britain's history when he would rather be making a beginning
than now. Here is his reason:
"No youth of the world
has been on the ground floor of so many new trades
and industries as the youth of today. Think of wireless, television, aviation, talking films—all in their extreme infancy. Think of the changes that must come and
each bringing its opportunities."
That is the sort of faith
the world has need of. It is the sort of faith that will bring the United States back to the prosperity level of 1928.
This same inspiring story
has been related a number of times by successful
Americans to American boys and girls. Most men who have attained success regret that the encroachments of age disqualifies them from the race they see just starting. In their eyes the opportunities they grasped when at the foot of the ladder seem but straws in contrast with the opportunities they see opening to the youth of today.
cotton growers of the South
would receive every year
for a ten-million-bale crop
at an average of twenty cents a pound, and it is twice as much as they are receiving this year for a 16,- 800,000-bale crop.
"And that last, when we come to think of it, is just about as good a definition of a billion dollars for this section of the country as one could desire. Let us repeat it: A billion dollars is what the cotton growers of the South would receive every year for a ten-million-bale crop at an average of twenty cents a pound, and it is twice as much as they are receiving this year for a 16,- 800,000-bale crop.
"Yes, that's a good definition. It ought to be the official definition in the public schools of the South."
If the yellow race ever dominates the world it will be after the white race has become too yellow to dominate it.
The bottom in literature

THE CONSERVATIVE ROLE.

The very word conservative has evil connotations in the United States. In politics, in particular, the conservatives are, for the most part, so closely allied to the selfish interests that many honest men are constrained to take the opposite side of the question. Of true conservatism, of the sort which insists that the proponents of change shall prove the merits of their panacea before administering it, there are almost none.
So is the word progressive of ill repute in American politics. It stands for change for the sake of mere change or for the political aggrandizement of the politicians exploiting the "reform." The progressives in congress have blockaded
much legislation that mattered little whether it passed or not, but little have they accomplished in the direction of constructive law-making and government administration.
Like the representative
conservative the typical progressive is too closely allied with selfish interests to be of real service to the whole people. Very often those interests are not distinguish-able from the conservative interests, and when the two are opposed the one is hardly less selfish than the other.
The true role and essential function of conversation is that it shall criticize those in power—that it shall subject each proposal for change to the most searching examination, the most subtle and effective criticism. The conservative is at his best not when he is doing something himself but when he is preventing the radical from doing something foolish.
Well, Ogden Mills is to be in charge of the treasury,
but as the town cynic says,
there's no money in that.
A cynic is one who says if we could see ourselves as others see us we wouldn't believe it anyway.

TRUTHS SELF-EVIDENT

In the preamble to a deathless charter of human liberties those who framed and phrased it invoked certain principles whose truth
was declared self-evident.
Seeking for a statement of civic faith wide enough to encompass all sorts and conditions of men and enduring enough to withstand the centuries, they turned first
to those verities which all men instinctively accept and to the axioms of human life which ask no argument in their favor.
The human mind is built
and human conduct fashioned around such self-evident truths. We do not turn over to debate the fundamental articles of our faith. They ring true in our hearts and are right in our eyes, wither or not our reason is competent to define or defend them. On lesser matters
there is dispute or debate,
but the convictions which most intimately control our conduct and frame our philosophy are based on truths which seem to us self-evident. Skepticism sometimes shakes them, but generally they outlive the doubt that assails them. In time of trial and distress we turn to them gladly, finding them better comfort and more certain guidance than all the ingenious products
of laborious reason.
Such faith in self-evident
truth is the universal stamp of humanity. It is the basis of all unity among men, which would otherwise be perpetually torn asunder by differences of opinion and interpretation. It is the faith which men will defend to the death, the faith that endures despite all darkness and doubt. It is faith in those things which men see
to be true and for which they therefore need no
proof.
Peace is that interval between elections when it is safe to denounce intolerance.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN DEMOCRATIC RACE COMING RAPIDLY

GARNER BOOM SEEMS TO BE SWEEPING INTO OLD ROOSEVELT TERRITORY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(P)— Replying to an inquiry about the prohibition views of Speaker Garner in connection with the presidential campaign, Senator Sheppard (D., Texas) stated today simply that "Mr. Garner has made no statement as to his position on the eighteenth amendment."
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(P)—
Intensive activity among the democrats yesterday brought new developments in the race for the party presidential nomination but no decisive gains for anyone.
The Garner boom, spreading noisily from Washington to Texas with way-points stops, broke into the Roosevelt-preferred territory of Georgia through the "proxy" filing of Judge G. H. Howard, who announced, if victorious,
he would deliver the state's convention votes for the speaker of the house.
The home state of Texas meanwhile launched concerted action for "Jack." Which found its echo in cheers in the house of representatives where Speaker Garner had nothing to say.
The Roosevelt forces marched forward with organization of a statewide campaign program in Pennsylvania; with favorable expressions toward the race but Old homo as second choice after Governor Murray; and with declarations by supporters in Georgia
that the state would be for him solidly.
The latter has been expected.
Although Judge Howard's move was not in the calculation, he said he would not make an active campaign. Governor Murray had expected in the race but his formal entry did not arrive in time, so his name will not be on the ticket. The Oklahoman nevertheless has promised to go in fighting to get his name written on by the voters.
Alfred E. Smith's friends in Massachusetts were seeking confirmation on reports the New Yorkers would consent to have his name go on the ballot, standing ready to push a big drive
for him.

Texans Join Hands For Jack Garner

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 23.—(P)—
Texas was "sewed up" for John N. Garner for the democratic presidential nomination today.
Advocates of the candidacies of Melvin Traylor, Chicago banker
and former Texan, and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York had stepped aside in the state for the speaker of the house of representatives.
Walter Collins, of Hillsboro, Traylor organization leader, and Stuart Smith of Beaumont, representing the Roosevelt forces, told Texas' Garner-for-President rally
here yesterday they would not oppose the livable congressman as the Lone Star state's first choice.
Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham was chosen permanent chairman of a committee which will direct a national organization for Garner's nomination.
"Garner for us, U. S. for Garner," was chosen as a campaign slogan and Texans went forth apparently in unison to obtain for a Texan a presidential nomination
for the first time in history.

Murray Says Ready To Override Georgia

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 23.—(P)—
Governor William H. Murray
"Bill" Murray says he's willing to go down to Georgia and hold his own presidential primary if he has to.
Vexed at the declaration of Georgia democratic leaders that there is no way he can get on the March 23 preferential ballot as a presidential candidate, Murray paused long enough on his speaking trip out of Oklahoma to telegraph an Oklahoma City representative:
"Have our lawyer friends in Georgia file suit to compel the acceptance of my name on the primary ballots."
And he added, last night when his train stopped at Vinita:
"If every other means fails I will go down to Georgia and hold my own primary."
The Georgia democratic central committee said Murray's personal entrance blank didn't arrive in Savannah by yesterday's noon filing deadline, although his $1,000
filing fee did. Told that Murray would make a "stump" tour and urge Georgians to write his name on the ballots, officials expressed the belief this would invalidate
the votes.
Murray Letter Received
SAVANNAH, Feb. 23.—(P)—A letter from Governor William H.
Murray of Oklahoma, presumably containing his formal entry as a candidate in the Georgia presidential preference primary, arrived here today, hours after the state
entry lists were declared closed.
The letter, unopened, is in the office of Miss Stella Akin, secretary of the state democratic executive committee. Sent special delivery, air mail, it was found under the door of Miss Akin's office when she reached there today. It bore a Savannah post mark of "2 a. m., Feb. 23." It had been in transit two days and 15 hours from Oklahoma City where it was mailed at 11 a. m., Saturday, according to the postmark.

PROBING LIFE OF ALLEGED BIGAMIST AFTER DEATH WIFE

DRAMATIC STORY TOLD BY WOMAN CLAIMING TO BE
WIFE OF RALPH ROOT

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—(P)—A dramatic story by a woman who said she was one of his many wives, started a police hunt today for Ralph Root, 43, for questioning regarding bigamy, a prison escape, and mysterious deaths in automobile accidents.

Mrs. Jane Root made the charges at an inquest into the deaths of Mrs. Hazel Beckner Root, believed to have been the fugitive's most recent wife, and her daughter, Hazel May, 10. They were killed a week ago when Root's automobile plunged 30 feet from a railroad viaduct.

Police said they had learned Root fled from the scene of the crash, registered under a false name at a hospital for treatment of minor injuries and did not attend the funeral. There were life insurance policies totaling $5,000 on the lives of Mrs. Root and her daughter, relatives said.

Mrs. Jane Root said she married Root five years ago and they never were divorced. She said he tried several times to end her life in automobiles. Each time, she said, Root leaped from the car in time to escape but she suffered serious injuries in one accident.

He told her, she related, he had escaped from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., and that a previous wife and her mother were killed in the crash of an automobile he was driving.

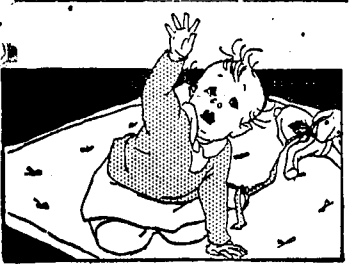

Root deserted her a few months after their marriage, Mrs. Jane Root said, adding she believed he had been married "at least several times since then without ever obtaining a divorce."

Mrs. Charlotte Horvath and Mrs. May S. Roede, sisters of the woman killed last week, also testified at the inquest.

The inquest was continued until March 15.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. HOSPITAL PATIENT PLUNGES TO DEATH FROM OPEN WINDOW

DALLAS, Feb. 25.—(P)—G. H. Kuehl of Chicago plunged to his death from a fourth-story window of a hospital here last night while his wife and brother watched helplessly, unable to prevent his act.

The 36-year-old man went to police headquarters Tuesday and told of being pursued by Chicago gangsters whom he believed intended to slay him. He could give no reason for their purported desire.

Police notified Mrs. Kuehl at her Chicago address and she asked that he be detained until her arrival. Kuehl was lodged in the hospital ward at the county jail.

Later he was found with his wrists and throat cut. Officers transferred him to a city hospital where he recovered. His wife and brother, A. B. Kuehl, arrived and planned to return him to Chicago.

They had just left the hospital room when Kuehl announced he wanted a drink. They were in the hallway at the time. He darted back into the room and fell out a window.

Mrs. Kuehl told police her husband had been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

CITY COMMISSION OF AMARILLO GIVEN TELEPHONE REPORT

AMARILLO, Feb. 25.—(P)—The Amarillo city commission today was studying a new appraisal and earnings report of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company which showed a net annual income of 6.48 per cent. The report was based on reduced rates put into effect four months ago.

A rate hearing, which was postponed Feb. 9 because of the illness of the telephone company's local attorney and reset for today, had been postponed again.

Mayor Ernest A. Thompson commented at the time the report was made that the company's appraisal of $1,894,893 was $542,227 higher than the appraisal made by the engineers employed by the city. He also brought up again the company's appraisal of $210,433 for "going concern" or good will.

It was not known when a conference on rates would be held, but Mayor Thompson said the city wanted "to straighten out the matter before time to grant a new franchise in June." He said the city would insist that the rates be written into the franchise.

THE TRAVELING WOMAN

Hints for Traveling
Today Miss Forbes gives some directions for that large class of women who spend their time traveling from town to town on trains, in cars, in buses—who must look well but whose complexions suffer from traveling.

The woman who travels a lot, whether for business or pleasure, has a very special problem in the care of her skin. Thousands of women are employed all over the country traveling; they spend their nights in trains, and usually wake up at some very early hour (trains always seem to arrive at such inconveniently early hours), and they have to look bright-eyed, well-dressed, well-groomed, when the business day commences.

Well, the best solution is a traveling beauty box. All the best shops carry boxes containing small amounts of every needed preparation, either in little leather bags which can be taken along with the handbag, or in brightly colored tin boxes, nicely decorated, and made to fit into a suitcase without taking up too much room. They contain cleansing cream, massage cream, rouge, lipstick, a box of powder, cleansing tissues, and usually something else—a pore paste, or a bleach—some specialty of the house that puts up the box. With one of these, and one of these compact traveling manicure sets, the business woman is well equipped.

I think, however, that each beauty box should contain a liquid skin cleanser and cotton to apply it, as well as creams, and also some hair tonic. And besides, a bottle of lotion to dry the hair when it gets dirty and greasy—and doesn't it do that traveling! If the hair is waved artificially, the box should hold a spray with a setting lotion, so the waves can be tucked up into place again—the traveling woman has not at all ways much time for shampoo and hair-setting. In fact, it would probably be easiest to put small amounts of the needed articles in jars and bottles and pack them all, with cotton around them, in one attractively decorated box. Then each thing is ready, the whole goes into the case in a jiffy, when the woman is in a hurry for her next train.

Miss B.—A good quality vanishing cream makes a satisfactory powder base.

Reds and browns will be becoming to you, since your eyes and hair are brown and your skin lacks natural coloring. Select dark shades for powder, rouge and lipstick, since your skin is the shade of the brunette type, for the shades of powder and cosmetics always appear lighter when they are used on the skin.

The large pores around the nose will become less and less noticeable if you use very cold water every day as a last rinse after bathing. The astringents you have been using have not given you any lasting results, and the toning effects of the cold water will do this for you if you are willing to wait long enough for this simple and healthful way of improving the condition.

Miss E. S.—The soft effect you admire is acquired by rubbing a little bit of cream into the skin and then wiping off as much as will come away. There will always be enough retained to act as a base for powder or rouge in sufficient amount to give a very flattering finish to the skin.

A. B. C.—As a bleach for slight discolorations of the skin, try a teaspoonful of sulphur in half a pint of bay rum. If special spots there may be more sulphur added, but since such a mixture would be drying to the skin, confine it to just the portion needing the bleaching. Oil or a cream may be used later to counteract the drying effect of the sulphur if there is need for it.

Tomorrow—Tricks.

STOCKS DRIFTED IDLY THURSDAY AS SELLING IS SLOW

ANOTHER WIDE BREAK IN AUBURN AT OPENING UN- SETTLED MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The stock market drifted idly today, with a slow undercurrent of selling apparent despite occasional ripples of buying.

Another wide break in Auburn at the opening unsettled the general list so little that professional buying was encouraged for a time, but selling cropped out in some volume after midday.

Auburn opening up 1-2 at 100, then recovered moderately. By early afternoon, American Telephone was off 2 points net. Other issues down 1 point net.

General Electric, American Electric, and Alaska Juneau, General Motors and Radio sagged fractionally. Kew-Forest and International Match preferred also were under notable pressure.

Union Carbide lost 1-2 on reduction of the dividend to $2 annually from $2.50.

In the main, the market continued to reflect tardiness of business pick-up. Important banking interests in Wall street remained moderately optimistic over the outlook for the latter part of the year, pointing to strengthening of the banking structure through the Reconstruction corporation.

And the Glass-Steagall bill and the gradual overcoming of currency hoarding as a basis for a solid basis for eventual recovery.

Dull Trading on Curb
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The curb market made indefinite changes today in dull trading. The usual favorites were listless.

American Cigar resumed its rise into new high ground, adding to its gains on news that the minor stockholders had come to an agreement with American Tobacco company whereby American Cigar will be made a holding company and assured an annual income equivalent to around $11 a share.

The company, American Tobacco now owns more than 90 percent of the common and preferred stock. The cigar company had a net loss of $1,110,405 last year against a larger loss in 1930.

Swift International firmed moderately in response to reports that the company's position had been helped by the more favorable situation in Argentine exchange.

Manufacturing, although in single actions involved only the usual odd lots. Deere worked slightly higher. Cord corporation turned over briskly, reflecting the movement in Auburn.

Utilities did little or nothing, nor could the oils find much of a market.

Railway Earnings
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The Frisco Railway Lines showed a deficit after all charges, for January this year of $1,125,773.71, which was a $768,020.68 greater deficit than for January, 1931.

Total operating revenues for January, 1932, was reported as $3,982,992.60, a decrease of $1,262,286.76 as compared with January last year.

FAMILY BELIEVES YOUNG HEIRESS WAS PNEUMONIA VICTIM

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Miss Elizabeth Barrett Cook, young Brookline heiress who died mysteriously aboard the steamship Chinese Prince while en route from Naples to Boston, was attributed to pneumonia by relatives, said in a statement today.

The prepared statement, expressing the unanimous opinion of all the members of Miss Cook's immediate family, was issued by Walter N. Ruffum, her counsel.

Miss Cook was soon to have married St. George Arnold of Boston, young student engineer. Her death while the ship was only one day from Naples at first was attributed to pneumonia by Captain Walter Owens of the Chinese Prince, who attended the young woman in the absence of a ship physician. When the body was removed at Gibraltar, however, an inquest and autopsy were ordered at which it was reported there were discovered evidences of poisoning.

Before the Chinese Prince sailed from Naples, Miss Cook received two telegram which falsely reported the death of her fiancé and urged her not to return to the United States.

FAIR WEATHER HAS BROUGHT NEW HOPE
TO FLOOD SECTORS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Fair weather has brought renewed hope to the flood swept lowlands of the Lower Mississippi Valley.

Monroe, La., which waged a heroic battle against the swollen Ouachita, has started to disengage the levee workers who aided residents in protecting the city.

The Coldwater, Tallahatchie and Yazouba rivers, rampant in the Mississippi delta since before Christmas, have ceased to rise in Outman, Tazouba and other counties, and rivermen said if fair weather holds, they should soon fall.

At Natchez, Miss., the Mississippi river itself rose but a tenth of a foot yesterday and observers called the outlook encouraging.

MANY PRODIGES AMONG CHILDREN OF SCHOOL AGES

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Apparently there's a lot more prodigy in Evanston than even a university president would imagine.

More than 100 applicants had been received today, ten days after President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern University, announced that his school would like to admit, next fall, a half dozen 13 to 15-year-old prodigies.

And this before any of the school principals, to whom President Scott made his only direct appeal, had responded with any nominations.

The applications received, made in surprising numbers by the children themselves from various parts of the nation, were inspired solely by brief notices carried on press wires.

In the face of this reaction, President Scott would not venture to forecast today what the "harvest" will be when the scores of educators have nominated the mental marvels who have come under their observation.

PINCHOT SOUNDS
OUT ANTI-HOOVER
SENATE SENTIMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—An anti-Hoover presidential campaign in the republican primaries was discussed today by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania in a letter to the Senate.

There was a conviction at the capitol that the Pennsylvania governor was seriously considering going into the presidential race himself, but he declined to discuss politics when seen by newspaper men.

Pinchot said both Senators Borah and Johnson of California, who have been mentioned as possible republican opponents of Mr. Hoover.

Neither Borah nor Johnson would talk about their separate conferences with Pinchot.

Secretary Stimson in Full Reaffirmation of U. S. Far East Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—In a sweeping reaffirmation of American policy, Secretary Stimson declared today that the whole fabric of international understanding in the Far East—including even the balance of naval power agreed on in 1921-22—was threatened by the hostilities between Japan and China.

It was partly because of the guarantees in the new-disregarded nine-power treaty, he said, that the United States agreed to give up some of its battleships and abandon further fortifications at Guam and the Philippines.

The secretary indulged in no predictions but his mention of the naval ratio attracted wide notice especially at the capitol—coming as it did on the heels of action by the Senate to ratify the new treaty.

Standing firm as he is in the past on the doctrine of an "open door" in China and challenging Japan's position for revision of the nine-power treaty, Secretary Stimson defined this government's policy in a detailed open letter to Senator Borah.

The communication was taken at once to represent the stand that the government would take when it comes for winding up the Sino-Japanese dispute.

In effect, the communication—while not addressed to Japan as such—pronounced America's policy, filled with detailed background, in the Far East difficulties as one squarely behind the open door policy and the nine-power treaty, under which that policy was subscribed to by the principal powers.

The letter was in response to a request by Borah for an opinion whether conditions in China have indicated the inapplicability or ineffectiveness of the nine-power treaty, and whether it was in need of modification.

The nine-power treaty, Stimson wrote, was entered into by Japan and the other signatories at a time when China was engaged in an attempt to develop free institutions and the powers realized China would require many years to attain that end.

Self-Denial Covenant.
The treaty was thus a covenant of self-denial among the signatory powers in deliberate renunciation of any policy of aggression which might tend to interfere with that development.

It was believed—and the whole history of the development of the open door policy reveals that faith—that only by such a process under the protection of such an agreement, could the fullest interest not only of China, but of the world, be served.

The secretary reminded that on January 7th last, upon his instructions, the United States had entered into a series of agreements with China, which he said were designed to bring about a settlement of the Sino-Japanese dispute.

Coach Pierce Expecting 200 Football Prospects In Camp

"Look's like we will have to take up a collection to buy more football uniforms," declared Johnny A. Pierce, head grid coach here Thursday morning after the opening of the first section of the spring football training camp.

"When all of the boys get out for spring football, it looks like there will be 200 of them," the grid chief continued.

There are more than 40 boys already training. This is only the ninth grid boys—that is, the boys who came to the senior high school at mid-term from junior high and the boys who will come to the senior high school next fall.

Coach Bergin of the junior high school has more than 80 aspirants out of the junior squad that started spring training this week. Track workouts to limber up the boys is being given this week and football uniforms will be issued next Monday when offensive instruction will be inaugurated.

Discussing the boys in the ninth grade, Pierce declared there were a number of promising gridsters—with number of fine prospects and some big boys.

Wants of good players and a good team for several years to come," the Bengal coach mused. It might be added there will be ten lettermen from the semi-finalist club of 1931 in the University of Texas interscholastic league race back for the 1932 eleven in addition to a flock of last year's reserves.

Corsicana will be represented on the grid this fall by much heavier eleven than the 1931 model of Bengals. "There are more boys out for football in the ninth grade this winter than were out for the entire high school squad in 1925 when I began coaching at Corsicana high school," Coach Pierce stated.

THIRD PARTY IS FORECAST IF WET CANDIDATES NAMED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—A third party that would "sweep the presidential election" is being organized by the National Union of Washington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, in event the Democrats and Republicans adopt prohibition repeal planks and nominate "wet" candidates.

He spoke here yesterday before the Southern convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America and said he considered it "only a possibility" the two major parties might name "wet" standard bearers and come out for repeal.

An appeal to friends of prohibition for "sacrificial support in order that we may continue this right until victory is won" was laid before the convention by W. A. Frost, former Louisville, Ky., judge, who charged the "wet" repealists with the "greatest menace to prohibition." The Anti-Saloon League must have sufficient funds to combat that organization, he declared, and the league's national fund, supplemented by any contributions.

Earlier, Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said the organization is prepared to launch a campaign fund of $10,000 into a fight to defeat the political party that nominates a "wet" presidential candidate. The fund, voted by the league's national board, went on to the "wet" standard bearers.

The newspaper Hoochi said in an editorial that persons abroad, especially Americans, who have talked of an economic blockade against Japan were greatly mistaken. It they believed economic act would end matters there.

"An economic rupture would surely lead to war," the editorial declared, "and such measures are actually getting the Kellogg pact and inviting the dangers of war."

JAPAN PROPOSES MORE "REALISTIC"
PACT ENFORCEMENT

TOKYO, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Japan believes the powers should agree to "a more realistic application of the international treaties" regarding China, a foreign office spokesman said today, commenting on the Japanese reply to the latest note of the League of Nations council on the Sino-Japanese dispute.

The spokesman denied, however, that Japan planned to propose a revision abrogation of the treaties applying to China, but he said the Tokyo government was convinced some form of international intervention necessary "to save China." This, he said, was the "natural implication of Japan's statement on its inability to consider China an organized people."

Up to now, he added, the powers have merely agreed to keep hands off China and to "let China stew in her own juice."

"We believe," he said, "that it is time something positive were done, although we have no concrete suggestions now except that for demilitarized zones" regarding Manchuria.

PAT NEFF NAMED PRESIDENT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY TODAY

FORMER GOVERNOR TEXAS HAS MATTER ACCEPTANCE UNDER ADVISEMENT

WACO, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Pat Neff, former governor of Texas, was elected president of Baylor University today by the Baylor board of trustees.

Neff has taken the appointment under advice. If he accepts, he will succeed Dr. W. F. Allen, acting president, who has been in charge since the death last year of Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks.

Brooks and Neff while students at Baylor University were roommates for several years. Later Brooks' outstanding ability as an educator brought him the presidency of Baylor while Neff rose to the office of chief executive of Texas.

About 10 years ago when Pat Neff was campaigning for the governorship, his predecessor as head of Baylor University, the late Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks, said of the candidate:

"Such training as he had in country, in the rural school, in the college and law classes, in the hard knocks of adversity, has prepared him well to lead the ambitious youth of Texas who seek to tread the thorny paths of knowledge to high civic usefulness."

The remarks were made by the Baylor president in Dallas before the "Neff-for-Governor Club." Neff was elected and served two terms, from 1921 to 1925. Dr. Brooks was in his heyday then, his recommendation of Neff for the chief executive post bringing with it the approval of the Baylor board of trustees.

Born in McGregor, Neff was born in McGregor, Nov. 26, 1871, Virginians. Neff's parents settled in Texas in 1852. The son got his early training in a country district school and later he went to Baylor University, where he met Dr. Brooks, destined to become president of that institution. They studied together, their friendship formed then, proving everlasting, and so attaching them to their alma mater that both were to serve it as its executive head. Baylor bestowed on him the bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees.

After leaving Baylor, Neff taught school two years, and then entered the law school of the University of Texas, graduating therefrom. Soon after he opened a law office in Waco, he was chosen to represent the McLennan county district in the legislature. He was elected speaker of the house and was the youngest presiding officer that body ever had. He was prosecuting attorney of McLennan county for six years.

After he served four years in the governor's office he accepted appointment to membership on the federal mediation board in Washington. Later he was appointed member of the state railroad commission by Governor Moody and was elected to a full six-year term in November 1930.

In a statement issued at the close of the trustee meeting, Dr. J. M. Dawson of Waco, Dr. Walter Bassett and Cullen Thomas of Dallas said Neff was elected on the first and only ballot. The choice was unanimous.
